

ACADEMIA ENGELBERG

AUTUMN ACADEMY 2018: «Unlimited Migration?»

14 – 16 October 2018, in Engelberg, Switzerland

as part of the ENGELBERG DIALOGUES (14 – 17 October 2018)

Are you interested in participating in discussions on different social, economic and scientific aspects of intra-European migration? Do you have new ideas on migration, and do you like to engage in a diverse group of people? The Autumn Academy for young researchers, which is a two-day interactive event within the ENGELBERG DIALOGUES, might be the right thing for you.

The aim of the Autumn Academy is to provide a platform for graduate students and postdocs from all academic fields to present and to discuss ideas related to broadly defined costs and/or benefits of intra-European migration and their policy implications. Presentations could focus on such issues as private benefits vs. social costs, socially desirable vs. politically feasible policy solutions or other related topics of interest.

The Autumn Academy will be followed by a half-day Workshop and one-day Forum with a keynote lecture and a panel discussion. The aim of the workshop and forum is to bring together some 100 researchers, policymakers, business people and public administrators to discuss issues related to trans-European migration and to develop new policy proposals. Participants of the Autumn Academy are also expected to participate actively in both the workshop and forum.

ACADEMIA ENGELBERG

Submission Details

Interested graduate students and postdocs are invited to first submit short abstracts, not to exceed 3000 characters (including spaces), by no later than 28 February 2018. Abstracts should include the author's full name and affiliation as well as contact details.

By 31 March 2018, the Scientific Committee of Academia Engelberg will invite authors of accepted proposals to submit final papers containing no more than 30,000 characters (including spaces) of pure text by no later than 31 May 2018.

By 30 June 2018 the authors of the 20 best papers will be invited to participate in the Autumn Academy. The three best papers in the view of the Scientific Committee will be awarded cash prizes ranging from 500 to 2000 Swiss francs.

Theoretical, empirical, as well as policy-oriented papers are welcome. These should be written so as to be understood by academics from fields outside the author's area of specialization. All abstracts and papers shall be submitted in English to the Academia Engelberg via admin@academia-engelberg.ch as a pdf file.

Expenses

Travel costs, accommodation and meals of the 20 participants will be covered by the Academia Engelberg.

Further Information

Please check the website of the Academia Engelberg for up-to-date information.

Contact

ACADEMIA ENGELBERG
Office
P.O. Box 503
CH-6023 Rothenburg

Phone +41 41 280 99 72
admin@academia-engelberg.ch
www.academia-engelberg.ch