

At the Limits

Summer School Basel, June 2016

directed by Harald Atmanspacher, Collegium Helveticum

organized by Cornelia Wüthrich, Academia Engelberg

sponsored by Helvetia Insurances and the Stavros Niarchos Foundation

16 participants from 12 countries / 10 universities / 4 continents

Felix Böwing (ETH Zurich)	Austria
Xiao Jean Chen (Zurich University)	Taiwan/USA
Lina Giniunaite (Lund University)	Lithuania
Ulrich Hanke (Zurich University)	Germany
Evangelos Ioannidis (University of Thessaloniki)	Greece
Sheila Jilani (Chuka University)	Kenya
Harshal Kate (Mumbai University)	India
Maria Kliesch (Zurich University)	Germany
Morteza Nikravan (Tehran Polytechnic)	Iran
Markus Nyberg-Andersson (Lund University)	Sweden
Stavroula-Antigone Prili (Athens University)	Greece
Kszenia Putyinceva (Lund University)	Ukraine
Nikos Stratigakis (Athens University)	Greece
Nick Theodoropoulos (Athens University)	Greece
Maria Wieser (Lucerne University)	Switzerland
Jing Xie (Zurich University)	China

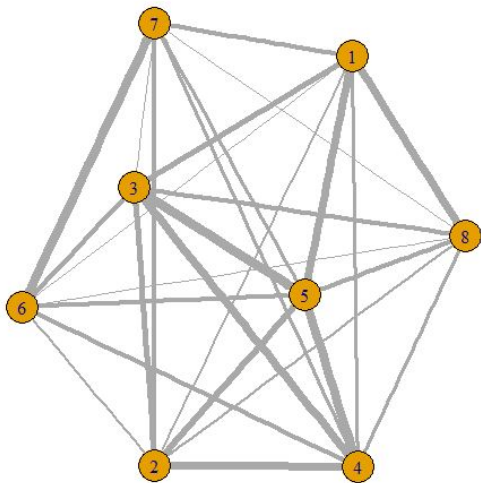

- 5 bounded rationality
- 4 super-intelligence
- 3 uncertainty
- 1 freedom
- 2 anomalies
- 6 nowness
- 7 flow experience
- 8 mimetic desire

strongest correlations:

3-4-5

6-7

1-8

© E. Ioannidis

Today's Presentations:

Today's Presentations:

- Maria Kliesch and Antigone Prili:
Nowness as the Frontier between Past and Future

Today's Presentations:

- Maria Kliesch and Antigone Prili:
Nowness as the Frontier between Past and Future
- Harshal Kate and Nikos Stratigakis:
Natural Intelligence Meets Artificial Intelligence

Today's Presentations:

- Maria Kliesch and Antigone Prili:
Nowness as the Frontier between Past and Future
- Harshal Kate and Nikos Stratigakis:
Natural Intelligence Meets Artificial Intelligence
- Evangelos Ioannidis and Morteza Nikrawan:
The Bounds of Bounded Rationality